

I like the four seasons

By Dimple Vijaykumar (age 10)

I like Spring because it's like seeing a colour palette around you. You can hear birds singing and can smell sweet scents of blossoming flowers. You can see green grass shooting up in the meadows and the sheep and cows grazing away. All of a sudden it is snowing! At least, so I think. I catch one flake in my hand and see it is only a petal of cherry blossom! Ohhhhh Spring! You tricked me! And now I know how Spring really springs up.

I like Summer because it's the holiday time to go to the beach with my friends and family. While my mum reads a magazine, my friends and I make sandcastles near the shore. The waves come and damage the sandcastle. What a shame! We build another one away teasingly just away from the water this time and it looks like Buckingham Palace! We put a small Union Jack flag on top to make it real. It was gorgeous. We take a picture of and with it!

I like Autumn because it's when the leaves on the trees start to change into different colours like yellow, orange, red and so on and then fall off. When I walk on the pavement on the way back to home after school, wading through the dry leaves, I hear the crunching of the leaves and it sounds like musical notes. Very blissful, indeed. Then I see little creatures like ants holding food in their mouths and I wonder where they are headed to with all that food. Then I realise that they are taking it to store for the future when Old Man Winter is due to visit us next month!

I like Winter because my family and I can go skiing! When we are done with our holiday and back to school, my friend Summer rings me and says it's a Snow day. That's when I go into the glowing snow and play and make snowmen with my friends including Summer and also snow angels! It's cold and I rush back to my warm and cozy house, cuddle up next to the fire, put on fuzzy slippers and have some relaxing hot chocolate with my mum and family. Then I see Shadow. Not really a shadow. My real dog Shadow! He has taken one of my slippers and is playing with it. I am about to take it from him but when I see he is having great fun with it, I leave him to it.

So now you know why I like all the four seasons and how it brings happiness all day, every day to my life through the year.
